A TIME TO WALK POOLSIDE & A TIME TO STEP UP ONTO THE BLOCKS

Last week Pastor Ben, Miriam, and I went to the High School Girls Swimming & Diving Meet to cheer on the swimmers & divers of HTLC. They all did a great job not just competing but modeling teamwork! I have to tell you when we went, however, it brought me back to when I was a diver in High School. It was not long after senior captain Ellen Popple finished winning the diving portion of the event that a swimming race commenced. After a brief period of warm ups, the next group of swimmers stepped up on the blocks and took their stances to swim. Then, for a moment, it was absolutely silent.

This silence brought me right back to my high school experience. I felt the nerves as I remembered our swimming and diving coach asking divers to fill in when there was an empty spot in a swimmer's race. Feeling completely ill-equipped and scared, I remember how I would shake on those blocks, nervous to participate, afraid I could not do it.

Soon the noise of the buzzer pierced the silence and all the swimmers went off their blocks and dove into the pool. In a matter of seconds, the silence turned to screams of support. As swimmers stretched out one arm on the water with an ear close by, their eyes quickly turned to see their team walking with them along the poolside. Coach Tracy Torgerson led the charge with a clipboard in hand, but across the way, the team was doing the same. They did not passively sit on the bench, they were all upright actively walking with their teammates, many even squatting down to look right into their goggle covered eyes to encourage them in the race. I will tell you, it was evident to me (and I remember it personally) what a difference those coaches and teammates made on their performance and ability to contribute to their team.

There are some words from the book of Hebrews that speak to this experience in a life of faith. In Hebrews 10:24, it reads, "And let us consider how to provoke one another to love and good deeds, not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day approaching." The writer of Hebrews is speaking to the power of encouragement and support in a life of faith. They are writing about how someone spurring us on to help us be who we want to be, can help us actually become that person. Again, just a few chapters later, the writer writes in chapter 12:1b-3, "And let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us, fixing our eyes on Jesus, the pioneer and perfecter of faith. For the joy set before him he endured the cross, scorning its shame, and sat down at the right hand of the throne of God. Consider him who endured such opposition from sinners, so that you will not grow weary and lose heart."

Just like those teammates and coaches encouraged others by walking alongside the pool with those swimming, the writer of Hebrews challenges us to walk with each other to spur one another on to live the life of faith that matters.

The Stewardship Team at HTLC has landed on an encouraging theme this year titled, "Come Walk with Us: Step up to Giving." The Stewardship Team is a group of people who know the joy and freedom of living a generous life and they are inviting all of us to experience that with them. At certain points in faith, we are the ones on the side of the pool to encourage others in their life of faith. At other points, we are called on to be the ones asked to step onto the blocks. While it may feel scary at first, we learn quickly after we jump in, that it's then that we get to learn that we have support. We learn we are a part of a bigger movement, a bigger team, and we can make a difference. We are called to cheer each other on. Please consider walking with us this year, and stepping up to being a generous and joyous giver on the Holy Trinity Team. Please pray about your giving, step up to the blocks, and jump in with confidence. God has some pretty amazing work for us to do in our church, community, and world. Our team needs you to join the race. I am thankful for each of you and grateful to be a part of such a great team!

“Community Trunk or Treat” Saturday, October 27th 5:00-6:00 p.m.

What is it? A “trick or treating” opportunity for kids AND adults! It allows us to gather as a church family and provide a safe and secure Halloween environment for the children in our community.

This is a great opportunity for...

ADULTS to bring their cars and treats to pass out. MAKE IT FUN.... decorate your trunk for the occasion... bring a jack-o-lantern... dress up! (This is a child friendly event! Please no scary decorations, costumes, or weapons)! KIDS of any age to come and “Trunk-or-Treat”. Instead of going house to house trick-or-treating, kids will go from car to car (trunk to trunk)! Adults will pass out treats from the trunk or tailgate of their vehicles. ALL children must be supervised by an adult.

- *All “trunks” need to be set up and ready to “treat” by 5:00 pm.
- *Food donations will also be accepted and delivered to the Peace Center.

** Holy Trinity members who would like to share their “trunk”, should register via Sign-up Genius by Oct. 22nd!

A hot dog dinner is open to the public and will be available from 4:30-6:00! Trunk participants may start eating at 4:30.

Fall is my favorite time of year. The air is crisper, cooler, with a clean scent. It’s a time of harvest – farmers are harvesting their crops, apple orchards are in full swing and the vegetables at the farmer’s markets are rotating to squash and pumpkins. The colors that nature takes on this time of year are breathtaking – variations in red, brown, yellow, and green. Sometimes when Tom and I are out and about in nature we’ll see something that will take our breath away and one of us will comment that God makes it possible and the spring and fall seasons abound with that feeling for me.

Fall is also a time of preparation and launching. As my dad was preparing to harvest the crops on our hobby farm south of Farmington as I was growing up, I would be back in the swing of classes at school. This weekend, I noticed the corn in the neighboring fields is nearly ready to harvest and as we attended the Dozinky Talent Show this weekend, I saw signs noting the dress up days for homecoming this week.

I feel the work around harvest and school is comparable to a harvest-like atmosphere at Holy Trinity. A team of individuals has reflected back on the strategic plan we’ve undertaken and compiled information that will be shared and celebrated at our annual meeting in January. Feedback was gathered from families in hopes of continuing what works well with our youth and children programs and what can be improved in preparation of Sunday school and Crew Time kicking off in September. Small group ministries are being kicked off during the month of September and October. The financial team is preparing to review this year’s spending and propose a budget for 2019. A video was shared in early September that illustrated the preparation our staff is taking as we prepare for our fall programs.

Stewardship is around the corner, as is the work the nominating committee will be undertaking. As you think through this season of harvest, please give prayer and thought to your gifts and talents and how you’d like to share them in 2019. Although our strategic plan has made significant progress in areas in which our members felt there was need, opportunities still abound. We’ll be using the findings of the strategic plan results to ascertain what we should focus on next at Holy Trinity. It’s akin to farmers who rotate their crops each year. As they think through the changing conditions with soil, weather conditions, the economic market and demand, we shall think through what should be given attention and focus next and try to align those initiatives with individuals who have an interest and/or experience in those areas.

I’d like to take a few moments to give ‘shout-outs’ to some teams with which I’ve become more familiar over the past year. First, Holy Trinity’s staff and pastors – I knew they were hard working but as you see it up close, their dedication, commitment, and willingness to assist is inspiring. They are a resilient group of people in an ever-changing landscape. At Wednesday service by the lake, I had the opportunity to meet and work side-by-side with our volunteers that support the meals and they are a cohesive team which make it look effortless. Tom and I joined a worship team to serve the second Sunday of each month and it’s been a great avenue to meet more members and connect with others. And last, but not least, I’ve really enjoyed the opportunity to serve on Council. I’ve served on boards before, but the idea of serving on Council was a bit intimidating. I’m one year into a three year commitment. As with any volunteer opportunity, it’s a time commitment and we have faced difficult decisions as any “board” does, but the feeling of satisfaction I receive from working with this great group of people makes it all worth it. Best of all, I’m not an island by myself. I’m part of a team serving and giving back to the place in which I choose to worship and I am fortunate to witness the ‘harvest’ of our work.
