HAPPY FATHER'S DAY

By Pastor Ben Hilding

It's been a challenging year to be a parent, but I love being a dad. I love kicking a soccer ball, tickling tummies, building playrooms, making arts and crafts (even jewelry) together, and seeing the pure joy in their faces as they learn new things. But as a dad, I also know that I have to do the hard things. Clean up the messes. Be comforting during doctor appointments and ER visits. Say No. Teach the hard lessons like "You need to share," "The whole world doesn't revolve around you," and "You need to help around the house."

This makes me reflect on how we refer to God as "Father" even though God is beyond gender. God must relish those sacred moments of sharing joy, providing comfort, and creating opportunity for God's children. But God also knows that there are times when, out of love, God parents us through challenges, growth opportunities, and lessons we need to learn as well. Join us for worship this week as we give thanks for the fathers and father figures in our lives and worship our loving God, our eternal Father.
